All Saints' Day,

helping up my mother from her mother's grave.

—Jim Liguri

The first Sunday in November – All Saints' – is dedicated to remembering loved ones who have died. It means that our gathering on this day is permeated by the reality of loss and death. Why do we intentionally choose to focus on something that is the source of pain? We do so because there are many forms of death – transitions, changes, passages – sometimes chosen, sometimes not. With all of these there is a sense of loss and accompanying sadness over what is no more. The power of death may lead us to despair or denial.

But on All Saints' Sunday we remember something beyond our grief. We remember with God. The pain we feel is the shadow cast by the light of love, the wound of grief a reminder of the goodness and preciousness of life. We do not only recall the loss we feel now, but the love we shared.

God does not promise us that we will escape death or the wounds of loss and grief. Instead, in and through the cross of Christ, what we have been promised is that the power of death over our lives has been overcome. To remember with God is to confront both the death-obsessed and death-denying world we live in. We can remember because we trust that God holds all things in hands of healing and that nothing and no one in God's keeping is ever lost or forgotten.

Peace,
Pastor Richard Rollefson

Sunday Worship Service

9:30am

Holy Communion

Education Hour 11:00am

Join us for coffee on the patio immediately following the service.

Dear Ones All, Family and Friends,

Our long plans of downsizing are being accomplished. We are now at The Samarkand, our new home in Santa Barbara. We have a two bedroom apartment with views of trees and hills out every window. It is a place of life long care operated by the Swedish Covenant church. Hospitality is their watchword.

The move came in a whirlwind of selling the house and managing Dr. appts. for Bob. Due to bladder cancer he needed transfusions and even an operation in late Sept. after a scan showed that the cancer had spread. Kurt and Colleen brought us down to S.B. on Oct. 7th after a beautiful blessing at our church in SLO. Kurt, Colleen, Jon and friends galore worked endlessly to pack and move us. We would be dead in the water without all their help. We feel right and good about being in our new place, beautiful grounds on 16 acres. The packing boxes cry to be cleared away, it will just take time.

Santa Barbara has a very new Cancer Center called Ridley-Tree, a part of the Sansum Clinic. Last week we saw two Drs. All the Drs. confer, making us feel cared for in strong ways. Bob had a port inserted and on Oct. 29 he begins chemo. Think of him with thoughts of healing light.

From the day we signed on to come to The Samarkand, we have been given blessing upon blessing of affirmation. The house sold to the first couple who came to look, all the inspections were timely and loads of "goods" went to family and friends as we cleared out a life time of articles and memories. We could write an epistle as the caring continues. I get chills thinking about it. In the midst of all, God is with us.

We wish each of you well. Here is a quote sung at our farewell, with the children ringing bells, "May our loving God guide thee, guard thee, over hill and deep sea: one we'll always be: one in faith, one in hope, one in fellowship of love."

Deep Peace and Great Love, Mary and Bob

Mary and Bob's new address is available in the church office and posted on the kiosk of the narthex.

ADULT FORUM

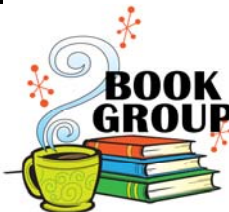

The Adult Forums will continue at the Educational Hour, 11:00am, after the worship service through November and December. Plans call for finishing the series on the Book of Ruth on November 4th and having a series on the Gospel of Matthew—basis of the gospel readings during the next church year beginning with Advent season, starting later in November.

There is still room for a few short topics if anyone has a suggestion—just let the Adult Ed team know.

BROWN BAG GROUP, November Canceled but...

It's the Holidays...

Looking at the calendar and realizing that November is waaay to full to handle another event, the Brown Bag "field trip" to the Cold Canyon Landfill will be postponed until Spring. I am sure many of you are wondering why would anyone want to go on a field trip to the landfill? After having the Director of Waste Management come speak to us regarding what happens to all our trash and recyclables, it was decided it would be very informative to see where it all ends up and is sorted. Watch future newsletter, and come join us, for what could prove to be a very interesting experience.

In the meantime, mark your calendars for Friday, December 14, noon, for the Annual Swedish Meatball Extravaganza.

Details will follow in a few weeks....

MIDDLE SCHOOL NEWS

At the middle school level, the Confirmation students are loving their lessons taught by Dave Parkinson and John Keisler. Look for our Confirmation students during the service one Sunday per month throughout the year as they learn the ropes of the behind-the-scenes work that goes into every Sunday's worship services. A big thanks to Mollie Smith, who in October let our young crew shadow her and learn all about altar guild!

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

As you are most likely aware, after garnering your feedback, last month your Council voted unanimously to re-engage with Turning West. Your feedback and participation is critical to this process! To that end, Deb Prieto from Turning West will be conducting a Congregational Gathering every time she meets with us. The first one is scheduled for Nov. 2nd from 6 – 8:30pm with subsequent gatherings in early January, February, and March. (Dates to follow)

Here's what you need to know...

We will begin our work with Deb Prieto at a Congregational Gathering on Friday, Nov. 2nd from 6:00-8:30 pm!

Please fill out the attached values sheet and bring it on Nov. 2nd. Highlight 5 values that represent Mt. Carmel at our best and be ready to share a story for each value you highlighted. These can be a bit aspirational but they need to be true of our community. If you will not be present on Nov 2nd, you may send this with someone else that evening or email them to info@mtcarmelslo.org (See attached)

The Norms and Community Building Teams are almost formed. Thank you for your patience and participation in this process. As soon as the teams are complete, they will be shared with you all.

We, the Mt. Carmel Congregational Council look forward to working together with YOU, the Mt. Carmel members, as we move forward through this process. Your voice is very important! Please continue to participate!

Thank you for your continued prayers and support as we work together to become God's hands in the world. As always, please don't hesitate to contact any of us with questions, comments, or concerns.

In Christ,

Your Church Council

From our Stewardship Ministry Team...

The Scripture does not forbid debt or borrowing. Nor does it in any way encourage us to borrow or to go into debt. In fact, debt in the Bible is frequently referred to in a negative connotation. To go into debt without the ability to repay or a plan for repayment is actually presuming upon the grace and goodness of God.

Honesty and integrity - especially concerning our debts - should be the hallmark of every Christian. How we handle our financial obligations can and does speak volumes to our family, friends, and business associates. That's why the Psalmist added this striking contrast to his description of the wicked person who borrows and fails to repay: "... the righteous are generous and keep giving."

In his instructions to Christians at Thessalonica, the Apostle Paul urged them to walk in an honest manner, especially with respect to those outside the church. When we pay our debts, when we live lives marked by integrity and honesty, then we literally fulfill Matthew 5:16. Our good works (including paying our debts) shine as lights in the world, which others see and in turn glorify God in heaven.

Or as Larry Burkett put it, "Money merely reflects to the outside world what is going on inside each of us." And that is nowhere more apparent than in how we deal with our debts.
